Hi Ken

Seems unfair to the board members to do all the work to be ready and seldom have to do anything. I presume we could always restart it if need be. I'm confident our trustees can handle the isolated times planning type work would come up. Perhaps having two members from architectural review, two from zoning and three from trustees to be designated at the time a planning meeting was needed could avoid having village trustees stressed for time or other duties or perhaps conflicts from having/needing to serve
